PROCLAMATION

I saw myself with a woman, we were walking towards a skyscraper and entered it. Except, as soon as we did, I was stripped naked from head to toe and the woman rushed into the elevator telling me she had someplace to go. She asked me to stand still and wait for her down there. The elevator closed behind her.

I immediately sensed that something was off. I looked for the building's staircases and started climbing them. As I did, I heard the Lord tell me, 'Climb all the way to the top.'

Before making it all the way to the top, my first challenge was to find clothes and cover myself; the second was to find the elevator and get in it before it returned to the ground level.

So I started climbing the stairs floor after floor. I saw rooms that looked like offices, doctor's clinics, and various activities and businesses.

I finally reached a floor where I saw a pullover in the corner. I put it on and continued climbing. Then I saw denim trousers at another floor and put them on too. But I was still barefoot, so I looked for shoes.

I came across a man sat at an office that he comfortably set up in the corridor. He saw me and said hello. 'Hello,' I replied. My view shifted to the bottom left of the room, next to his desk, and there were a pair of sneakers. I looked at him as if to say, 'Can I?' he nodded in agreement. So I took the shoes, put them on, thanked him and continue my journey.

As soon as I turned around, I saw that the elevator that had gone up with the woman upon our arrival was on its way back down. I had the knowledge that there were no other means for me to make it back to the ground floor unless I was in that elevator. So I sprinted down the stairs to try and interrupt it midway just before it reached ground level.

I saw that the woman had set me up basically. Bringing me into this building, knowing that I would be stripped naked as she went on in safety in the elevator. Now she was about to return to the ground level and make it out of the building undisturbed.

Thankfully, just when the elevator was about to reach level 0, I pressed the button at the first floor for it to stop. It had actually already bypassed my level by a few centimetres but it was pulled back up and opened.

When it opened, I got inside and gave the woman a look if to say, 'You set me up but Yah had my back,' but didn't audibly speak a word to her.

As I walked out of the building, I remembered that the Lord had said 'Climb all the way to the top,' which I had not done. I had been so worried about getting my clothes on and catching the elevator on the way down, that I did not go 'All the way to the top,' but only far enough to get the clothes and then I returned, chasing after the elevator.

I knew that I had to go back into the building and do what Yah instructed for I know my Father, He does not waste words. When He says something, He means it.

So I went back into the building and the second I stepped inside, I was stripped naked once more (consequences of disobedience or partial obedience, which is still disobedience). I went through the whole process again of finding clothes and shoes, but this time, it was much quicker than the first because I knew where they were.

Unlike the first time, a man walked past me whilst I was still naked and said 'Erm... Ma'am, you might want to put some clothes on.' I wanted to answer him, 'Where do you think I am going?' but I kept quiet and continued climbing up the stairs as quickly as I could. I ended up finding the clothes and shoes and wore them.

Now, I remembered that the Lord had asked me to go all the way up, so I continued upwards until I arrived at the top level where the elevator and normal staircases ended. But I saw that from there, there was a new set of staircases that were narrower and more obscure. I took those and continued walking up until I reached an isolated room.

I walked in and saw that there was a safe at the end of the room. I made my way there and the safe unlocked the second I put my hands on it, as if it automatically recognised me and was expecting me. I opened it and saw a sparkling gold coin placed at its centre. I took the coin, put it in my pocket, and left the room.

The scene then cut away to me walking out of the building. I realised that with that gold coin on me, I did not have to rely on the elevator to make it out anymore.

This is where the dream ended.

Dream interpretation

This dream is a representation of the coming world-wide financial crash.

The building represents the financial ecosystem of the world; its trades, banks and markets.

I was stripped naked when I got in because that is what the crash will do to all people: strip them naked. The picture is this graphic because that is what will happen. It will be severely graphic to see entire nations and continents crushed and brought to their knees.

This crash will eventually lead to the destruction of the value of money, including precious metals. Yes, you heard that right. Gold and silver will eventually stop being the measure of money on this earth until a new financial system is born. Read the sentence again.

The Beast [also known as the Anti-Christ] will get rid of everything we know as money right now and create his own currency. This currency will be non-tangible; it will come after the economic system of the world - as we know it today - has completely deteriorated; it will be heavily reliant on AI and will use the blockchain system.

It will be money in the cloud, figures on a screen, nothing you can count and touch with your hands. ATMs will be the things of the past.

I do not know which name it will have, but it will be in the format '[something]coin'. Jesus Christ spoke about it previously in the prophecy to Israel titled 'The Beast Takes Over'.

The woman represents the people who are responsible for this crash. She is the one who brought me into the building. She knew I would be stripped naked, yet she kept her clothes on and so did all those who were in that elevator with her.

The elevator represents safety for those people who have a way out of this crisis. Amongst them are those, who like the woman, created the problem, so they have prepared safeguards to preserve themselves and their interests. The elevator represents those safeguards.

The staircases are for those who will fight to keep their heads out of the water. Everyone will be trying to find ways to put some clothes on, running around from floor to floor, hoping to find something they can throw on their backs. They will be trying to find a way to get in that elevator before it returns to the ground level. But what qualifies one to get into the elevator is being fully clothed.

This means getting something going for themselves financially in a recessive economy or finding alternative ways of living that will reduce their dependency on the established financial system for their basic needs - which may involve several families putting their last pennies together to move to the country and start a homestead.

Once the elevator hits the ground level, the situation will rapidly deteriorate into utter doom and those who were in the elevator will find a way to get out of the building altogether. Meaning, either to get out of the system and live self-sufficiently and independently of it, or they find a way to thrive within the system despite its degradation.

For those who started the problem, this will be very easy because they prepared in advance before causing the crash. But for the ones who were running up and down, barely making ends meet, it is going to be very challenging.

Only those who have God on their side, like I did, will receive exceeding grace like the moment I had with the office man. He who did not even have a real office space but was set up in the corridor, allowed me to wear the shoes that he had set aside without saying a word. 'The wealth of the sinner is stored up for the righteous,' indeed.

But having clothes on is not enough. One must be able to know where to run so as to catch the elevator. Once one knows where, now they must be able to have the stamina to sprint there and make it into the elevator in time.

After the woman and her friends get out of the elevator, from their high tower they will watch the rest of the world suffer until everyone is desperate enough to accept any solution. This is when they will introduce the Beast money and the desperate populations will flock to it. For some nations it will be a swift transition - like in America - for others it will take more time, like in a lot of eastern nations whose economies do not depend on the west.

Yet, there is another set of staircases and a secret extra room reserved only for those who have divine revelation about it. There, the Lord has put promotion for them - a gold coin. They will not only be 'making it through', but will be coming out of the crash with a promotion and a dramatically enhanced financial situation.

Thus says YHWH:

‘They have planned this crash. It will not happen naturally. Do not be deceived.

It is going to be what will destroy the current money system and give rise to the system of money for the end times beast kingdom, the kingdom that will rule over the whole earth, what they have called "The New World Order".

The US dollar will crash and become obsolete.

This financial crisis will affect the entire earth whether the country's currency depends on the dollar or not.

Some people will survive it without too many casualties, whilst others will crash to the ground. Every currency that depends on the US Dollar will crash right along with her.

The dream I gave you about the transition into the beast kingdom for Africa will come during this crash, and the times leading to the crash.

Only the person who knows where to find the extra set of staircases and hidden room will be promoted. Whilst for others, if you have enough grit in the spirit and devotion to Me, I will guide you through the building to put your clothes back on and make it into the elevator in time.

The extra staircases and the gold coin of promotion in the midst of chaos are reserved for My most faithful servants. Do all you can for that to be you.

What is going on with the US elections is also preparing the grounds for it. They are behind it, do not be deceived and I have allowed it. The Synagogue of Satan is at work and their plans will succeed.

As it has been prophesied, so will it happen.

All of the EU prepare yourselves, for you will wail like America will wail because you have put your trust in her.

Australia, Canada, Southern America, wail!

Africa, what will you do? You depend on the West for everything, you barely make your own food despite all the glorious riches I have put in your lands.

The world will go through a recession. Prepare now!

I, YHWH Elohim, have spoken, My word shall not return to Me void.'

‘When he broke the third seal, I heard the third living creature call out, “Come!” I looked, and there was a black horse! Its rider held a pair of scales in his hand, and I heard what seemed to be a voice in the midst of the four living creatures saying, “A quart of wheat for a day’s pay and three quarts of barley for a day’s pay, but do not damage the olive oil and the wine!”’ — Revelation 6: 5-6.

‘As for those who in the present age are rich, command them not to be haughty or to set their hopes on the uncertainty of riches but rather on God, who richly provides us with everything for our enjoyment. They are to do good, to be rich in good works, generous, and ready to share, thus storing up for themselves the treasure of a good foundation for the future, so that they may take hold of the life that really is life.’ — 1 Timothy 6: 17-19.

By the way...

'Yahshua' is simply Jesus' name in Hebrew. Various scholars have argued for spellings and/or pronunciations like Yehoshua or Yeshua, which are variations of Joshua, but we prefer to stick with Yahshua as meaning, 'Yah/YHWH saves.'
