PROCLAMATION

Beast Kingdom – Volume 6

As I was working on the Fruit Factory's back-end today, Oct. 15, 2025, redesigning pages, translating and reorganising proclamations, working on downloadables, the Lord gave me the following statement to put at the top of this proclamation.

Thus says YHWH:

‘Before beginning the proclamation today, Elvira, I want you to take a simple screenshot of what your notes look like in the background. Don't touch anything, just capture it. We will black out what needs to be, but I want them to see that My Fruit Factory work is not a joke.

These are My servant's notes, not including the large bulk of it that she manually writes down on paper, and what she has backed up on other devices.

They make comments in their hearts and gossip in their group chats about this work, but I, YHWH Elohim, hear and see everything, everyone, everywhere, and at all times. The worst is to see people who are lazy cheaters, liars and charlatans, trying to comment on the work that is done here.

I want the readers to know that My Fruit Factory is not an AI-assisted work; this is not make-believe; this is not someone trying to appear like she works hard when she doesn't.

Everything you read here is the result of a very rigorous, mentally, spiritually, and intellectually taxing labour that My servant does on My behalf, and you are all witnesses to that. I chose her, I prepared her, and I am training her. The fruit you read here every day speaks for itself.

I will give My glory to no other.

I, YHWH Elohim have spoken, and when I say something, I mean it.’

As requested by YHWH, find the screenshot below. Tap on the image to open it in full screen and use zooming options.

The screenshot shows a Notion workspace for 'TFF Writing Tasks'. The sidebar on the left contains a file explorer with folders like 'Dreams', 'From YHWH', 'FruitfulDisciples', 'Music', 'Prayer Jewels', 'Task List', 'Teachings', and 'TFF Prophecies'. The main content area is divided into two sections: 'Notes' and 'TFF Writing Tasks'. The 'Notes' section on the left contains several notes, including 'Note 735', 'Note 734', 'Vol. 2 : Les USA et la Chine sont 2 faces d'une même médaille #145', 'Note 732', and 'Donald Trump : agent de distraction la taille d'un éléphant #144'. The 'TFF Writing Tasks' section on the right contains a table with the following columns: N°, Date, Title, and Series. The table lists various tasks, with row 21 highlighted in pink and containing the text 'Wednesday, October 1, 2025' and 'The one touch citizen card (connected to the digital reset)'.

Record date: Oct 01, 2025.

Yah gave me visions about what He told me was The 'One Touch' Universal Citizen ID. This is an AI-powered card that the beast will implement as the precursor to his mark; all of this card's functionalities will be carried over to the mark of the beast.

‘Also, it causes all, both small and great, both rich and poor, both free and slave, to be given a brand on the right hand or the forehead, so that no one can buy or sell who does not have the brand, that is, the name of the beast or the number for its name.’ — Revelation 13:16-17.

The 'One Touch' Universal Citizen ID

The vision began with a normal credit card, like the ones we currently use all over the world to shop in-person and online.

This card started being dismantled, layer by layer, and piece by piece. As this happened, I heard the voice of a crowd complaining in the background.

They were saying, 'You've been telling us that you will bring this new technology. You've been promising us upgrades and never-before-seen advancements, but where are they? Where is the technology you have been promising?'

The dismantling of the card continued until only its core chips were left. As if a cyberpunk video animation, beams of light were projected on the chips as they underwent a transformative upgrade.

The resulting new chips then got infused with AI technology and new security systems that gave the card the ability to verify a person's identity through the simple touch of a finger, in 'One Touch'.

This advanced ID was finally returned back to its original unassuming credit card form; disassembling its new nature.

The vision cut to a scene of myself with that card, in which Yah showed me some of its functionalities. I hovered it over my smartphone for a few seconds, as one would to make a contactless payment at the supermarket, and it unlocked it.

Next, I opened my mobile banking app and saw the usual message asking me to log in to my account. Here, too, I simply hovered the card over my phone, and it logged me in.

The vision transformed into a series of such hovering movements on my phone, in different apps. With every hover, the ID was locking or unlocking something, performing identity checks, age verifications, credit checks, etc, it also included online payments.

I opened a shopping app, added items to my cart, and when it was time to pay, I hovered the card over my phone, and the payment went through as if my phone was a physical payment processor.

I'd like to emphasise that this payment was not a service like Google or Apple Pay. Nor was it a QR-code scan, or the mobile money payments that are widely spread all over Africa and Asia.

It was a step further than all that; it was like when one hovers their credit card over a payment processor at a physical store to make a contactless payment, only that the processor here is your smartphone.

When we observe how this 'One Touch' Universal ID works, we understand why apps are an absolute necessity in the beast economy. It explains the app-frenzy that our world is experiencing at the moment, which is neither random nor spontaneous; it is not some kind of advancement of human creative invention either.

YHWH is revealing to us that all the incentives, discounts, bonuses, and even cash payouts that businesses and governments are giving us to download their apps emanate from the need to foster the beast's totalitarian one-world economy. We also see exactly how it will eventually lead to the institution of his mark.

As I watched these app manipulation scenes, YHWH told me that every person on earth is going to be given such a Universal Citizen ID card, and it will become our ticket to everything. It will be born out of the banking system, and will slowly take over every other area of our lives.

Without this card, one won't be able to do anything in the world, and the second part of the visions shows exactly how, as it moved away from my phone screen and into the everyday world.

I saw myself go through a series of daily activities, in a continuous flow of scenes.

When I arrived at the entrance of public places like supermarkets, pharmacies, parks, cinemas, etc, I had to swipe this card over a security door to be let in. This was done most naturally, as one would validate a ticket at the door of the subway, train platform, or self-check-in airport terminal today.

Then came the doctor's office, and instead of a health insurance card or paper documents, this universal ID was used; a single swipe was enough to be registered upon arrival. At the end of the consultation, it was to that same card that the doctor sent all the information related to my treatment, drugs, future appointments, etc.

The same thing happened at the pharmacy. When I arrived at the counter, I swiped the card over a processor, and the pharmacist accessed my prescription, searched for the medication and gave it to me. With another single swipe, I was able to make whatever payments were required before leaving.

On the visions went, with my day being filled with a swipe of this card here, and a hover of it there, to get this or that, to enter this room or that room, or to make this or that payment. To get my nails done, to buy a new pair of shoes or something as simple as a cup of coffee, to take the train or park my car—nothing was done without this ID. Swipe, hover, swipe, hover, on and on and on.

The vision then cut to me going back home, and it was this same card that acted as my door key, too. As one would to enter a hotel room, I hovered the ID over my door lock, the security system detected my identity and opened the door to let me into my apartment.

The 'One Touch' technology

‘When they say, “There is peace and security,” then sudden destruction will come upon them, as labour pains come upon a pregnant woman, and there will be no escape!’ —1 Thessalonians 5:3.

YHWH explained to me that the security technology of this card will work with one's biometric data. Biometric data includes fingerprints, voiceprints, iris scans, and facial recognition systems.

As soon as one holds the card in their hand, it will be able to detect the person's identity by using AI to map their biometrics to the central government database in real time. Thus, the card will be configured to decline any actions if the person performing it is not detected as its registered owner.

It is no coincidence that the tech cults (for they are no simple businesses) have started to roll-out these kinds of security systems on our most faithful daily gadgets, especially smartphones and computers.

They wanted to normalise this technology for us first, using the things upon which we have become the most dependent, before they moved to the bigger things. This 'One Touch' Universal Citizen ID is their future target, upon which they will also make us dependent.

This universal ID card will be able to tell if one is awake or sleeping by that 'One Touch'. It will do so by detecting the person's heart rate and body temperature from contact with their skin.

This, too, they got us accustomed to already, with the uprising and normalisation of fitness watches, sleep bracelets, and such gadgets. They have eased us into this lifestyle, selling it to us at premium prices under the disguise of modernity, health and fitness.

This means that someone will not be able to rob another person, put them to sleep, then use their fingers to activate the card's functionality against their will. That is the premium security and safety that this card will promise and successfully deliver.

Both YHWH's prophecies here at His Fruit Factory and the Bible have warned that the Antichrist will establish his totalitarian kingdom over the whole world on the back of 'peace and security' claims and promises. That is exactly what we are witnessing here.

The goal: universal monitoring, control and dominion.

They will introduce this card as the new avant-garde security feature first for the very sensitive aspects of our lives, like banking and government services. They will call it the weapon to fight against fraud, scamming, hacking, identity theft, and such social plagues. But it will gradually be connected to all the other areas of our lives, up to the most boring tasks in mankind's existence.

'Safeguarding your life has never been this easy and intuitive. With just one touch, one card, and one swipe, you can be guaranteed the most premium level of security everywhere and at all times,' is how they will sell the implementation of this ID.

Eventually, this card will replace our health insurance cards, government ID cards and passports, our birth and marriage certificates, bank cards, transport tickets, all our customer loyalty program cards and accounts at different supermarkets and retailers, etc.

It will be this single card that will condition everything in our lives, with just 'One Touch'.

This card will also be the glue that binds our online and offline lives together in one place. It will be connected to the Digital ID YHWH discussed in #108, and all the government digital services that they are already forcing upon us as I speak.

Information about our whole lives will thus be connected to that single card, and it will all be logged into the central government data bank, managed by the beast.

The invasive surveillance information gathered about us, as recounted in #136, will also be logged in that same central government data bank, over the whole world, and it will be easily mapped to each of our individual citizen profiles by AI.

This is what the beast wants: everybody's information in one place, so that he can know and manipulate every area of our lives and exalt himself as a counterfeit all-knowing god over mankind.

It is the exact same data and functionality found in this ID that will eventually be transferred into our bodies, and make it such that we won't be able to buy, sell, rent, get medical treatment, or do anything in modern society without it. Hence the scripture:

Also, it causes all, both small and great, both rich and poor, both free and slave, to be given a brand on the right hand or the forehead, so that no one can buy or sell who does not have the brand, that is, the name of the beast or the number for its name.'

The open blasphemy of the beast kingdom

'With just one touch,' they will say in their propaganda, over and over again, brainwashing us all into thinking, 'Yeah, it's so easy. Just one touch and my whole life is safe.'

I keep writing 'One Touch' in quotation marks because it is a term that was strategically selected by the beast to blaspheme the word of God.

Yahshua made it clear to me that their 'just one touch' campaign is directly pulled from the multiple instances during His ministry when one touch alone from Him was sufficient for people to be healed. There are countless such instances documented in the four gospels.

Their 'One Touch' propaganda will be to disrespect Yahshua and to try to tell Him, 'We can do it too. Look: in just one touch, we will rule over every aspect of your people's lives. Yes, in just one touch.'

This thought pattern and deliberate provocation of our King is in line with what Scripture says about the beast:

'The beast was given a mouth speaking arrogant and blasphemous words, and it was allowed to exercise authority for forty-two months. It opened its mouth to speak blasphemies

against God, blaspheming his name and his dwelling, that is, those who dwell in heaven.' —
Revelation 13:5-6.

The beast's craftsmanship in mind control

The beast's end goal is: the mark, or brand, that will be pressed on mankind's skin, on their right hands or foreheads, which will operate exactly like this 'One Touch' Universal Citizen ID. But for it to work, he needs to prep our hearts beforehand and condition our societies for its acceptance.

It is similar to how our media as a whole, and Hollywood in particular, is used to make music, movies and TV shows that are very effective tools of programming for our minds to be receptive to, and agreeable towards, the things Satan has lined up for the future of his world.

A very clear example is how the world was shown the idea of a black man as president of the United States in films before black people even had the right to vote in that land, in Rufus Jones for President (1933).

Then came the freemason Martin Luther King Jr. and his I Have a Dream speech in 1963. I clearly remember my shock when I found out that he was a freemason, and so was Nelson Mandela. My soul was forever marked.

That was followed by an increasing number of such black US president portrayals in movies and TV shows throughout the 20th century, with a sharp spike at the beginning of the 21st century.

Finally came Barack Obama, who was made president of the United States in 2008. Guess what? It turns out that this man, who was first introduced to us as an idea in a film 75 years prior, is the beast of Revelation 13 in the flesh.

Another example could be the movies about aliens, which started airing in 1902 and now in 2025, UFOs are flying over us, saturating our skies, and aliens will soon be our neighbours. Remember that they are not our friends.

The media has also developed a sudden large niche of sci-fi and tech themes over the last 50 years, like the film The Matrix (1999), which introduced us to the idea of life in a world that is pretty much a virtual reality.

Less than 30 years later, we live in that world, and we will eventually surpass it. There are human beings today who spend more time with their virtual goggles on, or in their virtual video game communities, than they do living their true lives.

There is a growing portion of celebrities whose private lives (houses, spouses, children, weddings, etc), social media posts, businesses, alleged public appearances, alleged movie roles, music albums, and other professional projects, are entirely fictitious—an AI fabrication.

The world's favourite public figures (in art, politics, media, academics, etc) are being replaced by their virtual, AI-generated, AI-managed, and AI-promoted counterparts. Their careers, social media presence, millions of likes, comments, and communities are all entirely AI-coined.

If you tap on the screenshot of my notes at the beginning of this proclamation, you will see that I am working one titled 'The Big Replacement' (line 13); that prophecy will touch on this. None of what you see in these people's lives is truly happening, no matter how large the crowd that seems to be assisting them or how many so-called 'trustworthy' media outlets seem to be posting about them.

I am going this deeply into explanations about the extremely deceptive nature of our world because if you don't snap out of his gigantic illusion now, this very moment in time, the beast will succeed in putting that nasty mark of his on you.

Lulled into our demise

Satan is very strategic. The evolution of our technology, media and world systems is meticulously planned to get him what he wants: his totalitarian one-world kingdom reign, during which he will take as many people as he can with him to hell, whilst being given authority to slay millions of his enemies—true Christians—and persecute Yah's Israel for three and a half years with little to no restraint.

The visions Yah gave me for this proclamation clearly support this fact.

The modes of payment, investments, and other modern technologies we have today are what the beast is using to prime us, that is to prep or programme us, to get used to a non-tangible economy where money is nothing more than figures on a screen.

The beast's objective during this time of prepping is to replace our natural daily habits and gestures with what will make us adapt to his system the easiest.

For example, a normal economy demands a 'give and take' action to be performed during a purchase.

If I am at the market and ask the farmer for 1 kg of potatoes, there is a 'give and take' that happens between us: he gives the potatoes to me and takes the money in exchange for it; I give the money to him, and take the potatoes in exchange for it.

Throughout mankind's existence this gesture has always been the standard way to trade, no matter what currency was being used, may it be other goods in barter trade, metals in various forms (copper, gold, silver, etc), or paper money.

However, the beast's economy only takes; Satan can't give anyone anything but death. There is no value exchange happening in his economy because his primary objectives are to kill, steal and destroy. Thus, he has to erase this principle from our society.

That's why we are seeing these extremely quick technological advancements overtake our financial systems and banking solutions, like the explosion of money in clouds with 'coin' currencies, crypto, etc.

When the beast completes his programming, the generations living in this time will completely forget what these natural principles were like, as they fully integrate his alternatives as their default, which are designed to condition us to live a life of monitoring and dependency on his solutions.

For years, we thought that this so-called progress was not only harmless, but beneficial for us, our children and society. Our governments and entrepreneurs told us that they did it all in the name of technological advancements, convenience and what they love most: safety. We fully welcomed it, and even started calling those who lived without it 'primitive' and 'underdeveloped'.

That, too, was an illusion.

We wholeheartedly accepted things that were part of a strategic plan to trap us into a societal system that would make it impossible to survive without the beast's mark.

With this 'One Touch' ID, the beast will use yet another means to bring us closer to his ideal, without having to present it to us up-front, because he needs us to love it, embrace it, accept it, and then be so addicted to it that we crave it.

The way that the frog that is thrown into boiling water will jump right out of it, but wouldn't realise that he was being boiled if you put it in cold water first, then gradually heat it, minute by minute, step by step, is the same way humanity wouldn't be receptive if Satan didn't lull us into our demise.

Psychologically, it is so easy to think about this universal ID as just another credit card that we are used to already anyway. It is easy to welcome the act of swiping and hovering it everywhere we go because we are already used to doing those things in everyday life.

It is almost as though this card will actually make our lives easier: everything in one place, our whole lives at our fingertips, with the most impenetrable security systems available in 'Just one touch'. It sounds very alluring, doesn't it?

When you hear these words in the future, know that it is the one who disguises himself as an angel of light speaking to you, and his speech will be so irresistible that the whole world will be lulled into their demise. The mass acceptance and adaptation to this card will be extremely quick.

If we don't repent and put a halt to our complacency now, then we will end up exactly where Satan wants us: wearing either his name or the number of his name on our hands and foreheads.

By the time the beast has worked on our collective mindsets and infested our lives with the totality of his sorceries, humanity will crave that mark so badly that we will start saying things like what Yah made me hear coming from the crowd at the beginning of these visions:

'You've been telling us that you will bring this new technology. You've been promising us upgrades and never-before-seen advancements, but where are they? Where is the technology you have been promising?'

AFTERWORD

The Fruit Factory is a call to true Israel and the end times church. It is time for harvest! The Lord Yahshua, the Christ, is sounding the trumpet: only the fruitful will make it.

Here are our top-five recommended proclamations for every reader of The Fruit Factory to get a clear understanding of the times that will preface the Messiah's return, and learn how to endure till the end. Please read them in order, from top to bottom. You won't regret it.

By the way...

'Yahshua' is simply Jesus' name in Hebrew. Various scholars have argued for spellings and/or pronunciations like Yehoshua or Yeshua, which are variations of Joshua, but we prefer to stick with Yahshua as meaning, 'Yah/YHWH saves.'
