PROCLAMATION

I had a vision in which YHWH Elohim showed me where the current conversation about transhumanism and robotics is going.

He brought me to a corridor; it was the middle of the night, and we were somewhere underground, it seemed. Outside the corridor were a lot of people and loud music; it seemed like we were in or around a club.

There was a queue in front of me, and the corridor led to the entrance of an event, but before we could enter, we had to get our names checked at a counter in front of the door.

In that queue, 2 people drew my attention.

First, a woman; she was loud, agitated, unkempt and looked malnourished. She started shaking her body viciously out of the blue, as if demonically possessed. I, who was at the back of the queue, got worried about her, but everybody else seemed to think that this was perfectly normal. She walked up to the check-in counter and registered for the event, but just as she was doing that, a most interesting person walked up behind her.

It was not so much a person, but a creature that used to be one. It was at least 2 metres tall, built like a bulky giant robot and blue. Its body was mostly made up of machine parts; I wouldn't have known that it was a human being if I hadn't seen a pair of eyes sticking out of its knee. I zoomed into the image to look more closely and realised that this person had displaced the contents of their head and put them into their knee.

You read that right.

Something else that stood out to me was that this cyborg had no flesh or any human components, aside from the eyes that I could see protruding and the brain tissue that I knew was located inside the knee. What connected this person's brain to the rest of their body were electrical cords—exclusively. For a moment, I wondered if it was not a machine that decided to stick eyes to its knees, but YHWH confirmed in my spirit that it was indeed something a human being had done to themselves.

DEMONIC CYBORGS

Satan shows us cyborgs in his Hollywood movies—what I have been telling you all here at the Fruit Factory for years, that is Satan's PR machine—all the time. It found its original boom in the 80s, and has only continually increased in popularity since then. He makes it look cool, futuristic, advanced and dressed up in a way that is supposed to be good for human beings, but YHWH is showing us that in reality, the concept of cyborgs will be rather absurd. There is nothing cool about screwing up your human body so bad that you are now a blue machine with its brain's content having to be in its knees.

So this blue creature walked up to the check-in registrar, slowly and loudly—it was too bulky to walk at a normal pace—with its creepy eyes, sticking out of its knee and looking around the corridor. When it reached the counter, its eyes looked up from the knee position, but it spoke to the counter with a voice that came out of its 'head', even though its brain was inside its knee. It finally also checked in and went through.

What gripped me more than what I was observing in this blue creature was the fact that all of this happened, and no one seemed shocked, terrified or anything. I was at the back of the room, scratching my head at the scene, but everyone else in the queue was acting like this was just part of normal life. Half of them looked like they were zombified, the other half looked like they were high on something. All of them just went about their day, waiting for their turn to enter the room ahead.

Then the girl from the beginning, who was still viciously shaking, stopped for a moment and said, 'I need to get back to appeasing my demon.' And I thought 'Were you not appeasing it all this time?' Well, apparently not.

She then resumed her wild and unhinged shaking with weird dancing. It got so violent that I thought she was going to throw herself on the ground. This girl's activities, too, were also considered okay. No one in the queue was shocked; it was almost as if no one was even noticing this because of how the people looked like they were half unconscious. No one asked, 'What do you mean by appeasing your demon?' No one wondered, 'Are you okay?'. This was normal life. 'Appeasing demons' in wild trances, shakings and dances—even when in public, that could put your life in danger, was normal life. So on she went and entered the event.

DEMONIC CYBORGS

This is where the vision ended.

All YHWH had to say about this vision was, 'This is closer than you think.'

'The thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy. I came that they may have life and have it abundantly.' —John 10:10.

The picture in this dream shows that humanity will become so dysfunctional and demonically influenced that it will disconnect from reality, from what is normal, from what it means to be a human being. They will self-destruct, having been lied to and seduced by what they saw on their TVs and decided to embrace without measuring the consequences.

If Yahshua the Christ is not your best friend yet, I pity you. You do not stand a chance.

Repent! Time is running out. Repent!

By the way...

'Yahshua' is simply Jesus' name in Hebrew. Various scholars have argued for spellings and/or pronunciations like Yehoshua or Yeshua, which are variations of Joshua, but we prefer to stick with Yahshua as meaning, 'Yah/YHWH saves.'
