PROCLAMATION

Beast Kingdom – Volume 4

YHWH gave me a vision of the hanging of a Christian martyr during the tribulation period in the totalitarian beast kingdom of Revelation 13.

I saw a middle-aged man, let's call him Matt, standing at the centre of a square-shaped stage, full of lights and cameras that were streaming the event live online. There was such a large crowd around the stage that the whole setup almost looked like a concert gathering.

An emcee, who was known to be a powerful false prophet at the time, took hold of the microphone and informed everyone present and watching what they were there for: to judge this man they considered a transgressor.

He turned to Matt and read the charges against him out loud. Matt was guilty of owning Bibles, preaching the Gospel of the Kingdom through the repentance of sins in Christ. 'Sin? According to who?' The emcee asked, with a boisterous laugh. Matt was also guilty of organising 'rebellious' Christian gatherings that are forbidden.

The penalty for all of that was death.

Then several scenes of people watching this event from around the world started flashing before me. Matt was a prominent minister of the Gospel, very well known around the world for his preaching. Billions were watching from different nations, with corresponding translations being done live too (AI technology).

My knowledge of the situation was that the ruler of the world, who stood over every nation and people at the time, had passed a law to make certain Christian executions a worldwide event, to send a message to every soul on earth that this would be what awaits them if they kept going on with believing in and preaching Yahshua the Christ.

The emcee asked Matt if he had any last words before his death, and this man of God proceeded with giving the most heartfelt and powerful sermon about faith in Christ. It was what I would imagine Steven's speech in Acts 7 must have felt like because I could feel great power coming out of that man, as I had the vision.

Then it cut abruptly to him getting hanged. He held onto that cord with all his might and tried his best to resist as long as possible, but it eventually got the best of him, and he died. I felt tears welling up in my eyes as I watched Matt fight for the Gospel and this life. He didn't go out without a fight.

Then the vision cut to an apartment, where a group of believers and I were watching Matt on our TV. What was interesting was that none of us was sad, on the contrary, the fire of the Holy Spirit inside us couldn't have been burning more than it did in that moment.

'This is the time for the Gospel to shine. Come on, Matt! You were prepared for this,' someone cried. Our faith was being bolstered, and souls fortified. From my point of view, watching this scene, all of us felt unified in spirit with Matt in that moment.

As he preached that last sermon, we were speaking words of encouragement to Matt through the screen, and it felt like he could hear us. It was as if our collective faith, the Holy Spirit inside of us, had brought us into that moment as one.

Matt was not alone; he was like a single voice that represented all of us, disciples of Christ, and we were all on that stage with him as he spoke. The Holy Spirit was definitely with all of us and was in control of this whole experience.

When they finally put the rope around his neck, we started praying, saying, 'Father, it is time for you to welcome your son home.' It was a powerful moment.

The Holy Spirit was so heavy on me by then during this open-eyed vision that I could feel His fire blazing just beneath my skin. I had been standing all along, but at some point, one of my knees dropped to the ground, as I sought support in order not to fall because of how much power I was feeling pouring out of Him in my spirit.

Then, the vision fast-forwarded to Matt's funeral. A small group of us went into the woods to commemorate Matt's life. We praised and worshipped YHWH for glorifying Himself in that moment through our brother. It was not grieving and there were no tears, for we knew we would meet Matt again very soon. His martyrdom galvanised us and made our faith stronger than ever.

Our burial service was interrupted by the appearance of a man, let's call him Tom, and his family, from behind trees. Everyone was immediately alerted, with people suddenly pointing their guns at him in a series of reflex moves.

Tom put his hands up and slowly approached us, saying, 'I come in peace.' His wife and daughter timidly followed him, with the wife holding their daughter's hand to keep her close.

One of the elders of our group walked forward and inquired of the man, which opened the floor for Tom to tell us their story.

Tom was one of the billions of people who watched the worldwide livestream of Matt's execution. He listened to Matt's speech and was touched by his display of faith and the defence that he put up for the Gospel, even as he faced death.

Right there and then, Tom felt a brokenness in his spirit, opened up his heart to the message of the Gospel, repented of his sins and accepted Christ as his Lord and Saviour.

Later that night, Tom had a personal encounter with the Messiah in a dream, who gave him specific instructions about how to escape and go to a place where he and his family would be safe.

As soon as he woke up, he packed 2 backpacks, took his family, and they escaped, leaving their whole lives behind. Step by step, they blindly followed the Lord's instructions. With Tom leading the small pack, they succeeded in leaving town undetected, which is a miracle in itself. As they continued following His instructions, it led them into those woods until they found themselves there, with us.

This is where the vision ended.

On October 26th, 2024, YHWH gave me a statement for this proclamation.

Thus says YHWH:

'The martyrdom will be televised. They will televise the execution of Christians for a while until they realise that it is having the opposite effect of what they had expected.

The false Christians who will abandon Me in the hour of trial will not survive, though. As they fall away from the faith and renounce Me for their convenience and to try to save their lives, they will lose it. The beast is loyal to no one, and he won't spare them. He will trick them and end up getting rid of them anyway.

As they lose it and are purged out of the false Christianity that exists today, My true end times church will begin to form all around the world, from the people who will watch the executions and be gripped by the Holy Spirit to yield and give their lives to Christ.

The true end times church will be forged out of the tribulation with persecution and martyrdom. The Philadelphia church will come out of the Smyrna church.

It is during such events that even My people, True Israel, will begin to wake up to their true identity in massive numbers around the four corners of the earth. They will have supernatural encounters with the Holy Spirit in those moments of watching the power of faith.

That power will sweep throughout the entire earth, and although the Church will be getting smaller, it will become stronger. The Smyrna church will form out of atheists, Muslims, New Age people, witches, wizards, warlocks, sorcerers, Bahai followers, Confucius followers, etc. A very large proportion of it will come from the Middle East and Asia. Africans will also see their faith take a new form; many of them will abandon the idols and have a supernatural encounter with the truth.

The tribulation will be a period of immense suffering and death for the Church, but it will also be a time of great revival around the world.

Do not think that you will see the revivals on your phone or TV screens, no. It will be silent revivals that will not be seen but only felt. The power of raw faith will be felt once more, like it was in the times of the first Church, like you read in the book of Acts. This church will not have billions of people, no. But the little that will be there will be true. They will be robust. They will be ready to die for Me, as I first died for them first.

I cannot wait to do away with all the false Christians that saturate My sight daily, and to welcome those who will practice what My word says in spirit and in truth, and in the midst of persecution and death.

The Church will be profoundly purged through inconceivable hardships, but what will be left of her will be pure, as I always intended. That is My true church. It is she who will become My bride.

Once the tribulation is over, My bride will be made of iron, unbreakable, untouchable, and she will be My crowning joy upon the earth. She will be ready to make her way back to the land of milk and honey and to receive her inheritance.

The synagogue of Satan will bow to you, My bride. All the earth that hated you will bring their gold and silver to you. The entire world will watch and see that the God of Israel is alive and His power immeasurable and unstoppable.

I, the YHWH, the Almighty God, have spoken, and so it shall be.'

'The beast was given a mouth speaking arrogant and blasphemous words, and it was allowed to exercise authority for forty-two months. It opened its mouth to speak blasphemies against God, blaspheming his name and his dwelling, that is, those who dwell in heaven. Also, it was allowed to wage war on the saints and to conquer them. It was given authority over every tribe and people and language and nation, and all the inhabitants of the earth will worship it, everyone whose name has not been written from the foundation of the world in the book of life of the Lamb that was slaughtered. Let anyone who has an ear listen: If you are to be taken captive, into captivity you go; if you kill with the sword, with the sword you must be killed. Here is a call for the endurance and faith of the saints.' —Revelation 13:5-10.

Being a martyr is an incredible honour in the Kingdom of God, not given to just anyone. It is a spiritual appointment, for which one gets a special reward in the Kingdom (See Revelation 6). It is something we must all be ready and willing to endure for Christ, for He warned us about the cost of following Him from the beginning.

'Whoever loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me, and whoever loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me, and whoever does not take up the cross and follow me is not worthy of me. Those who find their life will lose it, and those who lose their life for my sake will find it.' —Matthew 10: 37-39.

‘And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write: These are the words of the Holy One, the True One, who has the key of David, who opens and no one will shut, who shuts and no one opens: “I know your works. Look, I have set before you an open door that no one is able to shut. I know that you have but little power, yet you have kept my word and have not denied my name. I will make those of the synagogue of Satan who say that they are Jews and are not but are lying—I will make them come and bow down before your feet, and they will learn that I have loved you. Because you have kept my word of endurance, I will keep you from the hour of trial that is coming on the whole world to test the inhabitants of the earth. I am coming soon; hold fast to what you have, so that no one takes away your crown. If you conquer, I will make you a pillar in the temple of my God; you will never go out of it. I will write on you the name of my God and the name of the city of my God, the new Jerusalem that comes down from my God out of heaven, and my own new name. Let anyone who has an ear listen to what the Spirit is saying to the churches.’ —Revelation 3:7-13.

By the way...

'Yahshua' is simply Jesus' name in Hebrew. Various scholars have argued for spellings and/or pronunciations like Yehoshua or Yeshua, which are variations of Joshua, but we prefer to stick with Yahshua as meaning, 'Yah/YHWH saves.'
