PROCLAMATION

‘He made me understand, speaking with me and saying, “O Daniel, I have now come out to give you insight and understanding. At the beginning of your pleas for mercy a word went out, and I have come to tell it to you, for you are greatly loved. Therefore consider the word and understand the vision.

“Seventy weeks are decreed about your people and your holy city, to finish the transgression, to put an end to sin, and to atone for iniquity, to bring in everlasting righteousness, to seal both vision and prophet, and to anoint a most holy place.

Know therefore and understand that from the going out of the word to restore and build Jerusalem to the coming of an anointed one, a prince, there shall be seven weeks. And for sixty-two weeks it shall be built again with squares and moat, but in a troubled time.

And after the sixty-two weeks, an anointed one shall be cut off and shall have nothing. And the people of the prince who is to come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary. Its end shall come with a flood, and to the end there shall be war. Desolations are decreed.

And he shall make a strong covenant with many for one week, and for half of the week he shall put an end to sacrifice and offering. And on the wing of abominations shall come one who makes desolate, until the decreed end is poured out on the desolator.” —Daniel 9:22-27.

Yahshua gave me an open-eyed vision to be proclaimed at His Fruit Factory. The vision came with its interpretation.

I saw the front of a ship in the middle of the sea rocking in a strong wind. The storm had built up to the point that two big waves had risen around the vessel.

Then, it was as if the motion was slowed down for me to observe every detail.

The first wave was massive, at least five times the size of the ship. This wave was dark in colour, as was the colour of the seawater. It was dark but still somewhat transparent.

As the storm evolved, the dark wave was building up on the ship's left side, with the ship laid underneath it. It reached the point that about three-quarters of the ship had now been covered by this dark wave.

I was waiting to see this wave make contact with the ship, dreadfully, but that moment never came. This dark wave had somehow suspended itself in the air, gradually moving around the vessel to cover more ground, but without touching it.

Then my point of view shifted to the people on the ship, who I realised were completely oblivious to the presence of this dark wave. Instead, all eyes were on the right side of the large boat, where another wave had also built up.

The second wave was light blue in colour and much smaller than the first, being less than a quarter of the ship's overall size. As I looked at both waves, it seemed to me that the blue one was only about a tenth of the dark wave's size.

Overall, both the blue wave and the ship were covered by the much larger dark wave that no one seemed to see. I wanted to shout at the people and tell them, 'Look! There is a bigger, much more dangerous wave on this side that has completely overcome you!' But well, I couldn't.

Then, my view zoomed in, and I finally understood why the smaller wave captivated everybody's attention: it had just started to make contact with the ship's edge.

Next, this scene of a ship rocking in a storm with two waves building around it was frozen, as one would pause a video. After the freezing, the frame was blurry at first, then gradually became clearer until I realised that it had been fixed into a picture frame; it was now an immobile image.

The vision cut away to the scene of a room, where two men stood in front of a large table; it was the size of a forty-seat rectangular dining table. One of the men quickly ran to go take large measuring instruments: a ruler, a compass, and a pen, whose sizes were proportionate to the table.

My point of view changed. I was now observing the man begin to measure and draw things on the table from the top down, as if watching from the ceiling.

The table was like a blank canvas, and this man had a plan, a picture in his mind, of what he wanted the result of his work to be. He began measuring the distances between different points and drawing connecting lines between them.

As time passed, numbers appeared at each end of the lines he was drawing. For example: 'Line A goes from number 3 to number 35, passing through number 14.'

From an outside perspective, it seemed like he was working haphazardly. I wasn't able to follow him; I couldn't guess what he would do in advance. But Lo and behold, when he finished, the result was like a chessboard, with perfect squares and straight lines.

Although there were no colours to create a checkered pattern, the numbers on the table looked like pieces on a chessboard positioned in their cells. There was perfect order between these numbers, and each line connected to the other in sync.

My view then returned to the first frozen frame of the storm.

As one of the men brought his hand close to this frame, the flat picture transformed into a 3D object, like a wooden figurine. The figurine had the shape of a ship with waters of a storm beneath it, and the two waves rising on its left and right sides.

These figurines multiplied, and the man strategically placed them all over the numbers on the chessboard. When he finished, no figurine was left over; they were all placed on a number. On the other hand, not all numbers had figurines on them, but they were all interconnected.

My view zoomed out, taking me back to the end of the room. The first man, who had drawn the patterns on the table, placed a transparent lid on top of the table. It looked like a thick protective firmament made of glass.

This is where the vision originally ended. But later in the day, as I was transcribing what I had seen into my notes, YHWH gave me one last scene to conclude the vision.

Yah flashed the image of the covered table in the centre of the room before my eyes. Nothing happened at first, for some time.

Suddenly, thick silver grey iron bars simultaneously came out of the room's ground and ceiling. It created a rectangular gate, or a cage, all around the area where the table stood, with a large iron lock on its front door.

Then, I heard the sound of security locks clamping on the different connecting ends of the iron bars. CLACK! CLACK! CLACK! They transformed the area into an impenetrable fortress.

A small fire appeared in the air and began to carve a message into the central iron lock of the cage. After completion, the image was zoomed in for me to read the carving, and it said: 'BY THE ORDER OF YHWH.'

This is where the visions ended.

Vision interpretation

For the sake of a comprehensive interpretation, I will divide the vision into three sections.

- (1) The ship and the dark and blue waves
- (2) The chess table
- (3) The iron cage

Section 1: The ship and the dark and blue waves

The sea represents the world as a whole.

The ship represents the different nations of the world.

The storm represents the disconcerting and troublesome turn that society and life are taking all over the world during these crucial times, the end times.

The blue wave represents the conflicts and difficulties the earth and its nations are experiencing right now, and the visible signals that Yahshua is indeed coming soon. That is, the birth pangs.

‘When he was sitting on the Mount of Olives, the disciples came to him privately, saying, “Tell us, when will this be, and what will be the sign of your coming and of the end of the age?”

Jesus answered them, “Beware that no one leads you astray. For many will come in my name, saying, ‘I am the Messiah!’ and they will lead many astray. And you will hear of wars and rumors of wars; see that you are not alarmed, for this must take place, but the end is not yet.

For nation will rise against nation and kingdom against kingdom, and there will be famines and earthquakes in various places: all this is but the beginning of the birth pangs.’ — Matthew 24:3-8.

The blue wave represents, for example, the discussions and events of wars that have arisen over the past hundred years. That is, the world wars, foreign invasions, terrorist wars, civil wars and political upheavals happening around the world. This phenomenon is rapidly increasing, with a new war breaking out every year in the last five years.

It represents the cyclones, tsunamis, and floods; the earthquakes, landslides, and volcanic eruptions. Their frequency and intensity have also risen over the past few years, all around the earth.

The blue wave represents the uptick in false religions and spiritual confusion around the world; the rise of volatile ministries in the church; the ever-increasing number of social media false prophets claiming to give you a word from God.

It represents the increasing number of people who claim to be the returned Messiah worldwide. This, too, will only worsen as we draw closer to Yahshua's return.

‘Then if anyone says to you, ‘Look! Here is the Messiah!’ or ‘There he is!’—do not believe it. For false messiahs and false prophets will appear and produce great signs and wonders, to lead astray, if possible, even the elect.

Take note, I have told you beforehand. So, if they say to you, ‘Look! He is in the wilderness,’ do not go out. If they say, ‘Look! He is in the inner rooms,’ do not believe it. For as the lightning comes from the east and flashes as far as the west, so will be the coming of the Son of Man.’—Matthew 24:24-27.

The ever-increasing dates of the so-called rapture being announced by people, especially online, is another clear sign of the times. Thus, ‘See that you are not alarmed,’ for Yahshua Himself told us that no one knows the day or hour of His return, only the Father.

He clearly warned us of all of this: ‘Take note, I have told you beforehand.’

Moreover, Yahshua said He would return, ‘Immediately after the suffering of those days.’ He continued to describe that after that suffering, ‘The sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light; the stars will fall from heaven, and the powers of heaven will be shaken.'

It is only after all these things that, He says, 'Then the sign of the Son of Man will appear in heaven' (Matt. 24:29-30).

Thus, at a minimum, as long as when we look up in the sky the sun and the moon are still intact, no star has fallen, and no power in the heavens is shaken, Jesus Christ is not even close to returning. He is nowhere to be found on this earth.

Overall, Yahshua is telling us that it is only after the earth has fully tasted the end-times desolations that He will return. Which brings us to the next part of the vision, the dark wave.

The dark wave, on the other hand, represents 'The desolating sacrilege, spoken of by the prophet Daniel.'

“Then they will hand you over to be tortured and will put you to death, and you will be hated by all nations because of my name. Then many will fall away, and they will betray one another and hate one another.

And many false prophets will arise and lead many astray. And because of the increase of lawlessness, the love of many will grow cold. But the one who endures to the end will be saved. And this good news of the kingdom will be proclaimed throughout the world, as a testimony to all the nations, and then the end will come.

“So when you see the desolating sacrilege, spoken of by the prophet Daniel, standing in the holy place (let the reader understand), then those in Judea must flee to the mountains; the one on the housetop must not go down to take things from the house; the one in the field must not turn back to get a coat. Woe to those who are pregnant and to those who are nursing infants in those days!

Pray that your flight may not be in winter or on a Sabbath. For at that time there will be great suffering, such as has not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, and never will be. And if those days had not been cut short, no one would be saved, but for the sake of the elect those days will be cut short.’ —Matthew 24:9-22.

With the dark wave, we move out of 'the birth pangs' that Yahshua asked us not to be alarmed by, and move into the true desolation and judgment of the world. It is the summation of end-times calamity that no human being on this planet is ready to experience.

The dark wave represents the Lamb's scroll of judgment with the seven seals, and all the destruction and distress that the released horses will bring upon the earth. This wave comes with phenomena no one has seen in the history of the world. For example:

'So the four angels were released, who had been held ready for the hour, the day, the month, and the year, to kill a third of humankind. The number of the troops of cavalry was two hundred million; I heard their number. And this was how I saw the horses in my vision: the riders wore breastplates the color of fire and of sapphire and of sulfur; the heads of the horses were like lions' heads, and fire and smoke and sulfur came out of their mouths.

By these three plagues a third of humankind was killed, by the fire and smoke and sulfur coming out of the horses' mouths. For the power of the horses is in their mouths and in their tails; their tails are like serpents, with heads, and with them they inflict harm.' —Revelation 9: 15-19.

The dark wave represents the great tribulation of the church that will unfold during the reign of the beast, which 'was allowed to wage war on the saints and to conquer them. It was given authority over every tribe and people and language and nation' (Rev. 13:7). That is the blood of not some hundreds or thousands, but of millions of Christians, spilt not only in a few countries that do not tolerate Christianity, but across the entire world.

The dark wave is an amalgam of everything we dread, but that will inevitably befall us in these end times. It is a series of events that will alter the very fabric of this earth, beyond what we think we have anticipated and seen before, even in dystopian movies and series.

Read Revelation 5-16 to learn more about the Seven Seals of the Scroll of Judgment and the Bowls of YHWH's Wrath. Most human minds cannot properly picture such a reality, and any person who lives through it can never be the same afterwards. But if you pray about this seriously, the Lord will show you these things for yourself, for we all have the same Holy Spirit alive in us. With prayer, petition and supplication, Christ in His mercy and faithfulness will prepare you for this time.

The juxtaposition of both waves in this vision shows that the blue wave is drawing people's attention away from something more devastating that is already present on the other side of the ship.

What the nations of the world see is the blue wave. This wave has started making contact with their ships and is already wreaking havoc in the collective economic, social, and political systems of the world.

The people are absorbed by the blue wave, ignoring that they are already completely soaked and immersed in a bigger, more ravaging wave that has been quietly covering three-quarters of their nations and is ten times the size of the blue wave they think is overwhelming now.

The fact that they cannot perceive it does not mean that it does not exist. This terrifying wave is strategic; it has intentionally manoeuvred its growth so as not to make itself felt, and even cloaked itself by marrying its colour with that of the seawater, so as not to be easily detected.

This wave has already consumed three-quarters of the nations but has not officially splashed on them yet. It will not take any chances and is waiting for the complete dominion of the nations, when the totality of the people are well surrounded by it, with no way out, to mercilessly crush them in a full collision as if dropping out of the sky. That collision will be for total annihilation, and it will happen only when it has overcome a hundred per cent of the nations, not before.

The fact that only a quarter of the ship has not been covered by the dark wave shows that we, the nations, only have a very slim time frame to prepare for collision, for there is no stopping it. This tiny time frame means that a collision could happen at any moment now, for we don't know how long it will take.

Once the full engulfment is reached, whichever state the dark wave finds us will be how we will have to cope. If unprepared, we will surely be destroyed and left desolate.

Yahshua desires to take us out of our distracted state and wake us up from our slumber by bringing us this prophecy now. This is love, the love of Father, letting us know what is to come whilst there is still a little preparation time left. Only the prepared will stand.

"From the fig tree learn its lesson: as soon as its branch becomes tender and puts forth its leaves, you know that summer is near. So also, when you see all these things, you know that he is near, at the very gates. Truly I tell you, this generation will not pass away until all these things have taken place. Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away.' — Matthew 24:32-35.

This proclamation is the Lord pointing us to what is ahead, so that our lives, destinies and fruits will not be cut short. This is Him saying, 'Take a look on the other side! Do not join in the useless debates and waste your time in fruitless chatter. Do not deceive yourselves into thinking that life will move on brighter than before. See, something much worse is already on the horizon, and the time to prepare for collision is now.'

After this small window of preparation closes, whatever happens, happens!

Now is the time to be like Noah and build our spiritual arks because when the dark wave hits, there will be no way out of it. Unless we have been building our houses upon The Rock, our houses will be whipped out by the storm.

There will be no emergency services, which is why Yahshua said, 'But understand this: if the owner of the house had known in what part of the night the thief was coming, he would have stayed awake and would not have let his house be broken into. Therefore you also must be ready, for the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect' (Matt. 24:43-44).

The time to learn how to pray for prolonged amounts of time, three hours, five hours, an entire night, or even twenty-four hours, is now.

The time to learn how to fast without any food for 7 days, 14 days, or however long the Holy Spirit prompts us to, is now.

The time to learn our Bibles inside out, chewing on Scriptures until they sink to the bottom of our hearts; learning to pray those psalms and use the double-edged sword of the word of God in spiritual warfare and conquering life's aches and pains is now.

The time to destroy the ungodly strongholds in our minds is now; to learn how to live proper, repentant lives, and permanently divorcing sin and all its fruits.

When Satan, with his Antichrist, start hitting this world from all corners with the kind of evil we have only seen in movies, it will be too late. There will be so much devastation that we will not have time to think; if we have not prepared ourselves, our souls will be too weak to stand, our hearts will fail us, and our spirits will easily fall prey to demonic possessions and other satanic manipulations under the dominion of the Antichrist.

When Yahshua sends forth His angels to execute His wrath, it will be too late. No one will be able to overturn it, and if we have not managed to receive His seal of preservation on our foreheads, it will mean unspeakable pain and suffering.

He who has ears, let him hear.

Section 2: The chess table

The large table represents the earth's surface.

The numbers on the table represent the different events of desolations that will hit the earth.

The figurines of the ship in a storm with the two waves represent the individual nations of the world, and their fates in these end times.

The two men represent the Lord Yahshua the Christ and the angel of the harvest in Revelation 14.

'Then I looked, and there was a white cloud, and seated on the cloud was one like the Son of Man, with a golden crown on his head and a sharp sickle in his hand! Another angel came out of the temple, calling with a loud voice to the one who sat on the cloud, "Use your sickle and reap, for the hour to reap has come, because the harvest of the earth is fully ripe." So the one who sat on the cloud swung his sickle over the earth, and the earth was reaped.' —
Revelation 14:14-15.

The One who ran to get the measuring equipment to plan out the different connecting lines and numbers all over the earth is the Lord Himself. For He is the Lord of the harvest.

The fact that He sprinted to pick up His utensils means that this is a very important and urgent matter for the Lord. It is not something He is joking about, nor is it something He is going to delay any further than He already has.

The connecting lines show that the events will be interconnected. They are an indication of how meticulously the Lord has planned His glorious return. They will seem to the rest of the world to be coming out of nowhere and happening out of order, but we, God's people, must know better.

The numbers indicate that there is a chronological order for the desolations to happen, from 1 to 2, to 3, etc. End times events have been perfectly planned out by the Lord in all His wisdom and justice.

The Lord is showing in this vision that all the desolations have already been determined, for each nation, for each area of the earth, and they are interconnected, one triggering the next, and the next, whilst many will be happening at the same time.

The fact that some numbers did not have a figurine placed on them means that certain desolations will affect the earth's surface, but not necessarily a specific people in a nation. Meaning, we will observe end-times phenomena and incidents displayed in the atmosphere and skies, the forests and vegetation, seas and oceans, mountains and valleys, etc.

Yet, because every single figurine was placed on a number, it means that no nation will be left out during these times. Christ has an end times plan for every one of our countries, ethnic groups, and tribes.

The chessboard indicates that Yahshua is playing chess whilst Satan and his minions are playing checkers.

Yah is telling us that the things we are about to witness will not be done out of Satan's will or craftiness. But it will be by YHWH's own hand of judgment, as He thrusts His sickle to harvest the earth. Whatever Satan is doing, he is only getting away with it because Yah has allowed it and will use it for His good purpose.

Moreover, no one will be able to anticipate what will happen next, and no one will clearly understand how He planned it until it has all come to pass. This is reflected in how I couldn't clearly trace or follow anything while He was drawing until the end, when I saw that the full picture was a chessboard.

It is time for harvest, indeed. We are living in the hour of Elohim's judgment.

Section 3: The iron cage

The interpretation of this final part is clear: nothing and no one can open that cage, no one can access that table, and no one can change those plans.

The lock is closed; this future is sealed, 'BY THE ORDER OF YHWH.'

'Remember the former things of old, for I am El, and there is no other; I am Elohim, and there is no one like me, declaring the end from the beginning and from ancient times things not yet done, saying, "My purpose shall stand, and I will fulfill my intention." —Isaiah 46:9-10.

At our human level, we will witness those events unfolding from day to day, month to month, and year to year, but in YHWH Elohim's book, at His divine and sovereign level, everything is finished. Thus, no person or group of people in or outside the church will be able to overturn it. No one can annul it. No one can cut it short and pray it away.

No matter how much we pray and cry, 'Even now, Come, Jesus, come!' No matter how much we run around the internet giving people dates for the rapture, when the Lord says something, He means it. The Messiah will not return until everything that was written in the Bible that would need to happen before His return comes to pass.

That is why the Bible says, 'If anyone has an ear, let him hear: If anyone is to go into captivity, into captivity they will go. If anyone is to be killed with the sword, with the sword they will be killed. This calls for patient endurance and faithfulness on the part of God's people' (Rev. 13:9-10).

The desolations are determined. They are final.

An important remark

Victory and enduring until the end in our context of the end-times harvest of the earth does not mean material blessings or even physical health. Victory in these end times means what our Lord Yahshua spoke to the Church of Philadelphia, which is well echoed by what Apostle Paul said to his mentee Timothy about finishing the race.

Victory in these times means: preserving your faith in Christ and not allowing your crown to be taken from you in the midst of everything that will happen on earth. Victory is being able to say that when it was all said and done, when the books are opened, your name will be written in the Lamb's book of life.

Keeping the faith and working out one's salvation with fear and trembling, taking hold of one's crown and not allowing anything to make it tilt, is the only victory that one must constantly strive for. That is the most important reward one must keep their eyes on in these serious matters of eternal relevance.

'I have fought the good fight; I have finished the race; I have kept the faith. From now on there is reserved for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will give me on that day, and not only to me but also to all who have longed for his appearing.' — 2 Timothy 4:7-8.

'I am coming soon; hold fast to what you have, so that no one takes away your crown.' — Revelation 3:11.

AFTERWORD

The Fruit Factory is a call to true Israel and the end times church. It is time for harvest! The Lord Yahshua, the Christ, is sounding the trumpet: only the fruitful will make it.

Here are our top-five recommended proclamations for every reader of The Fruit Factory to get a clear understanding of the times that will preface the Messiah's return, and learn how to endure till the end. Please read them in order, from top to bottom. You won't regret it.

By the way...

'Yahshua' is simply Jesus' name in Hebrew. Various scholars have argued for spellings and/or pronunciations like Yehoshua or Yeshua, which are variations of Joshua, but we prefer to stick with Yahshua as meaning, 'Yah/YHWH saves.'
