PROCLAMATION

YHWH has spoken to me about what is revealed in this particular prophecy many times before; He has even given me dreams about it. But it is not until today that He asked me to sit down so that He could dictate this detailed prophetic proclamation to me.

It is about the elite and what they do in hiding. Yahshua the Christ's light, the Truth, is being shone on the darkness and exposing it for the entire world to know.

My job as His prophet and scribe is done here. The person who will read and not believe, or read but want to defend evil and show partiality to wickedness, their blood shall be on their own hands.

Thus says YHWH Elohim:

‘There are a lot of people walking this earth who are not human. Amongst them, there is a category called clones.

These people are not demonic beings or spirits. In fact, their main characteristic is that they do not have souls, nor do they have spirits. They are machines. Robots. Synthetic materials.

Satan and the fallen angels have perfected their technology over the years to the point where today, these clones perfectly live and operate as normal human beings do. They sweat, they cry, they can express emotion. They have hair that grows out of their head and that sheds.

The women have all their reproductive systems, with the exception that they cannot bear [human] children. The men have all their reproductive systems, to the exception that they cannot produce potent seeds to bear [human] children. Apart from that, these things function as humans do.

They should not be mistaken with android robots, which are another breed of non-human things that have neither spirit nor soul. The clones need a source to be produced, whilst androids do not.

These clones can also be made for plants, and a time is coming when it will be that all humans will be given to eat by their governments: cloned plants and meats, plastic food. It will cause a lot of illness and death. Some governments are already testing it.

Expect this to come during a time of great famine, when they will tell you they have found a solution for the hunger. Their solution will be death.

There are also clones of animals. A time is coming when your domestic animals will all be made of plastic, but they will look and feel exactly the way normal animals do.

If you turn to Me, I will feed you. But you must trust in Me and submit to Me completely for it to work because I do not have a split mind like you humans do. I do not work halfway. I am faithful and constant. I do not change.

Therefore, I desire My people to be the same as Me, submitted and faithful. That is why tests come, to test your faith, to test you so that whether you are truly with Me, or are just a pretender, can be revealed. A word to the wise; he who has ears, let him hear.

Clones are reproductions of a human from an existing human. They vary in quality and effectiveness, but essentially, the source of the clone is what determines how the clone will turn out.

Certain clones are more perfected and function as actual carbon copies of their originals. These are the premium ones, and they are those whom the rich, famous, and popular men and women of the world use.

The clone inherits everything from its source, including its memories. So a clone could come back home to a man's wife, and the wife would not know that it is a clone.

Clones need to be updated and regularly up-kept, but the rich and famous have no problem doing that since they are the ones who are Satan's most productive puppets.

Here, I am talking about the various celebrities, especially those you call "A-list" celebrities. I am talking here about the politicians and leaders around the world. If someone rises to the head of a nation, be assured that there is a cloned version of them that exists somewhere.

For those who are the most prominent and active in the media and the press, they have several clones. Sometimes, there are four, five, six even up to 8 different versions of them, depending on how much they show themselves and what exactly they are trying to sell to the public at a particular moment in time.

Many of the male celebrities who are living as women but want you to believe they are pregnant will bring out a cloned version of themselves, but pregnant. The clone will walk the red carpets, make the social media posts, give the interviews, the whole thing.

Sometimes there are two clones for different stages of pregnancy, especially when the belly must be exposed to the public during live performances and such things. These are for those who really want to sell their story.

Heads of nations have clones. Celebrities have clones.

For a celebrity, they usually swap their clones more often than politicians because the real person is not always available. The real person is often too busy being locked up in punishment for not having said or done something.

Others are too busy doing various satanic rituals that can take several months to undergo. This will often be the case just before they have a big movie coming out, a new album, a new concert tour, and such big and lucrative events. So you are looking at the thing thinking it is the person, whilst the person is somewhere on a remote mountain, undergoing satanic rituals for the success of their project.

Beyonce does this all the time; so do most A-list celebrities for the one-billion-dollar movies. The one billion does not come out of sheer movie-making; it comes out of craft. Demonic activity. Satanic seduction of the masses who flock to cinemas under thousands of demonic spells embedded within the film, or the music, if it is for albums.

In this category of celebrity, however, there are several ways clones are used. 3 main types:

(1) Stars who relish the use of such beings: when the star needs to be away for satanic rituals or wants to improve their performance on stage and reduce fatigue.

The perfect example would be Beyonce. Another example is the male passing for female that you know as Angelina Jolie, and her husband, who is a born female but passing for male that you know as Brad Pitt. Even sports people, like the male passing for female that you know as Serena Williams. Even Taylor Swift, another male. Beyonce is also a male, by the way; a 51-year-old male.

(2) Stars who despise the use of clones but do not want to let go of their stardom and its privileges: when the star needs to be away because they are under punishment for not having done something, they are being afflicted.

The perfect example would be Tom Holland. Even Lupita Nyong'o falls into this category. Here is also the male who is passing for the female that you know as Jennifer Aniston.

(3) Stars who are complete victims and are owned by the system: when the star does not have a say and must comply when asked to put the clone forward for whatever reason.

The perfect example here is Justin Bieber. Chris Pratt also falls here, though his situation is a bit different from Justin's.

For the celebrities, it is standard practice that it is the clone who is shown on social media; the true stars just do not have the time for that. So all of you who argue over social media pages of your favourite celebrities, what they posted, what they said, you read the gossip and whatnot: you are arguing over things that are not even human.

Same with the paparazzi walks, the high-ranking stars will usually let that be done by the clones, including switching different clones according to the need and location. That is why they can be on five different continents within four days promoting a movie, and you wonder how. It is not them. If you are lucky, then one of them will be the real person and the others, the clones.

The lesser-known celebrities do not tend to have clones because they do not make the managers and agents enough money to be worth the investment, for these clones cost a lot to make and to upkeep.

When a lesser-known career is trashed or destroyed by the system, if a clone was underway, this clone's production will usually get dropped or reduced in quality so as not to continue spending the money. That is how you end up with the current thing that says that it is Wendy Williams. The real Wendy Williams was killed for not staying in line; the thing you see is a clone.

It is why you wonder why your stars look so different. They will be away for some time, and at their next public appearance, you see them, they look like they have suddenly aged 20 years, or have lost 20 kg or have put on 10 kg, in mere weeks or months. It is not them, it is a clone. If not a clone, then it is an AI-generated image, video or even event. All of it is fake.

They do this. They kill the star and allow the clone to keep on living. Sometimes it is very believable and other times less so. A lot of the stars you are seeing, their real selves were killed years ago. So you are in love with a clone.

Obviously, the agents will never stop at an opportunity to make money, even if the clone is malfunctioning. They will get whatever they can out of it, whenever they can.

Some careers get completely cancelled with no chance of ever being reignited. This often happens when the previously successful star has decided to leave the industry, refuses to partake in the satanic rituals required, or has become a true Christian.

When that happens, Satan is furious and will use the clone until he completely sabotages the person's career to a point of no return and then will also melt the clone away so as not to incur maintenance costs. During the sabotage period, the person is usually already gone from the industry, and what you are watching is their clone, exclusively, until the career is made irrelevant.

He who has ears, let him hear.

The politicians also use these clones very regularly, but for them, it is a bit different. They all fall under the category of being fully aware and cooperative in the use of these things.

Their clones are also much more premium in quality. Though sometimes, when the leader has already been killed, they may make less of an effort with the clone, especially if the leader in question is about to be replaced and the clone must only hold for a few months until they are out of the picture and the new leader is placed in power.

Barack Obama, the beast of Revelation 13, relishes the use of his different clones. The pictures you once saw of him having a great jet skiing vacation all over the media were of a clone.

He, Barack, was the one behind it all. He orchestrated the entire PR stunt and felt very gratified by its success. He has done so numerous times and continues to do so today. He will not stop doing so in the future.

Joe Biden, for example, is one who has been killed already; the person you see talking to you is an android, not exactly a clone. But sometimes the clone is more appropriate, so they will take it out for a run instead of the android robot. He was killed by the synagogue of Satan, and betrayed by Barack Obama and Kamala Harris, and others whose names you would not recognise.

Even those you think are different, Donald Trump. He has clones, uses the technology and relishes it.

Angela Merkel, Justin Trudeau, Emmanuel Macron, even the Saudi Kings, the British Royals, the Indians, and the African leaders. They all use this satanic technology.

For politicians, the clones are better trained. Sometimes they must give interviews, and they will go on stage with a microphone tucked under their skin through which the real person speaks, so as to make sure that the answers given are correct and on track.

They bask in the feeling of power they get from deceiving you. They congratulate themselves on how well the operation went. They laugh and mock you when you react to the interviews and take your warrior fingers to type comments on the internet, knowing that all the while, it was not even they speaking to you, but a clone.

It is one of the things that makes them feel powerful.

There are also clones in the business world. The powerful businessmen like Jeff Bezos, Elon Musk, and even investors who are not so much in the press like Warren Buffett have dabbled in the technology.

This is the world you live in.

Satan laughs at you. He mocks you. He is so proud of himself that the whole world believes in his lies. He does it to grieve Me and to defile you. For when you have so many lies inside of you, there is no place for Me in your heart; for I AM Truth.

Many of you need fasting programs for cleansing from lies. Actually, most of you do.

Some of these clones are your pastors. Some of the androids have also been planted in the Church, especially in the United States of America. They have large followings and are leading all of you to hell.

You will see these people glitch; some of them already have, but it was covered up by the press. But I say here and now that there will be more and more glitches of these things for all of you to see.

When you see it, you will know that I had proclaimed it on My fruit Factory before it came to pass and that it is My hand that is exposing them to the public.

Now, because you drink from their cup of deceit, you, too, are deceitful people. Because you are listening to lies, envy those lies, praise those lies, your souls, too, have turned into lies. When I test you, the lies you harbour will be exposed.

I am speaking to the Church. You think you know Me, but out of you, only an overwhelming minority truly do because you cannot believe lies and receive the Truth.

When you are so full of lies inherited by the pulpit and the media, when the truth comes, you reject it. That is why you have no spiritual discernment. That is why many will come to My Fruit Factory, read the words that I speak here and then dismiss them, or worse, insult them.

To the Christians, My time of refining and purging the Church is at hand. I will test your hearts for lies. I will test you, and many of you will fail. When you fail, remember that you read it here and repent.

Without repentance, the judgment for your failed test will not miss you.

I will judge you for it. I will judge the lying tongue and the unbelieving heart.

He who has ears, let him hear.

I, YHWH Elohim, the Almighty, have spoken and so it shall be.'

'They bend their tongues like bows; they have grown strong in the land for falsehood and not for truth, for they proceed from evil to evil, and they do not know me, says the LORD.

Beware of your neighbors, and put no trust in any of your kin, for all your kin are supplanters, and every neighbor goes around like a slanderer.

They all deceive their neighbors, and no one speaks the truth; they have taught their tongues to speak lies; they commit iniquity and are too weary to repent.

Oppression upon oppression, deceit upon deceit! They refuse to know me, says the LORD.

Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts: I will now refine and test them, for what else can I do with the daughter of my people?

Their tongue is a deadly arrow; it speaks deceit through the mouth. They all speak friendly words to their neighbors but inwardly are planning to lay an ambush.

Shall I not punish them for these things? says the LORD, and shall I not bring retribution on a nation such as this?' —Jeremiah 9: 3-9.

By the way...

'Yahshua' is simply Jesus' name in Hebrew. Various scholars have argued for spellings and/or pronunciations like Yehoshua or Yeshua, which are variations of Joshua, but we prefer to stick with Yahshua as meaning, 'Yah/YHWH saves.'
